Welcome to

The 9th Annual Adolescent and Young Adult Health

Virtual Research Symposium

The Youth Disability Experience

Sponsored by the Division of Adolescent and Young Adult Medicine of UPMC Children's Hospital of Pittsburgh and University of Pittsburgh School of Medicine Center for Continuing Education in the Health Sciences and The FISA Foundation.

Program Overview: The focus of this symposium will be on understanding the developmental and behavioral factors related to adolescents with disabilities.

Target Audience: Scholars and practitioners interested in positive development of youth with disabilities, adolescent health, community health, advocacy, translational research, health services research, clinical care, and education.

Learning Objectives: The goal of this symposium is to teach clinicians and other youth-serving professionals what tools and resources are available to share with their adolescent patients with disabilities.

ASL Interpretation and real-time captioning will be provided.

Below is the zoom information for Symposium attendees. There is a separate zoom link for Grand Rounds
