Learning objectives

On completion of this activity the participants will be able to

1. Learn about the concept of frailty and its importance in evaluation/management and outcomes for abdominal transplant recipients
2. Discuss indications and practical considerations for use of veno-venous bypass in liver transplantation and advanced hepatobiliary surgery
3. Review strategies for prevention and treatment of acute kidney injury in liver transplantation
4. Learn about strategies to improve graft quality in donation after circulatory determination of death in organ transplantation, including machine perfusion
5. Review ethical and practical considerations in organ donation after circulatory determination of death
6. Discuss administrative considerations in managing a transplant anesthesiology service line and fellowship

Target audience

Transplant anesthesiologists, intensivists, transplant surgeons, residents, and fellows.
