

Submission #358

Submission information

Form: Social Work Credit Worksheet
Submitted by Anonymous
Wed, 08/16/2023 - 12:45pm
128.147.28.77

Name

Beverly Gaetano

Email

gaetanobs@upmc.edu

Course title:

PSI Virtual Morning Session

Course date:

September 12, 2023

Will this activity help social workers better serve the public and support ongoing professional competence?

Yes

Can this activity be understood as building on a degree in social work for someone currently practicing as a licensed social worker?

Yes

Is the content of this activity credible (i.e., empirical, peer reviewed, follows established research procedures) OR does it address legal, ethical or regulatory professional standards?

Yes

Please provide learning objectives relevant to the scope of practice for social workers:

A Psychological Approach to Clinician Well-Being/Lisa Podgurski

1. Define the psychological concepts of boundaries and countertransference.
2. Reflect on how boundary crossings and countertransference reactions influence their own wellbeing as a clinician in hospice and palliative medicine.
3. Describe how peer consultation can help support their psychological wellbeing.

Reflective Reading/Andrew Thurston

1. Discuss personal reactions to a literary work and how it related to their experience(s) as a clinician and share reflections with colleagues in a small group format.
2. Write reflections about their reaction to a literary work and how it relates to their experience(s) as a clinician and share their reflection in a small group format.
3. Demonstrate awareness of and empathy towards patients' unfolding stories by contributing at least one verbal or written comment to small group discussion.

Please select one or more of the following social work educational areas:

Social work practice, knowledge, and skills

Specific practice, knowledge, and skills (select one)

Social work clinical practice

CCEHS Course Contact

Vanessa Larson