

Conflict of Interest (COI) Disclosure Form

Individuals who have the ability to control or influence the content of an educational activity must disclose all relationships with any ineligible company (previously referred to as a commercial interest) over the previous 24 months regardless of the relevance to the education. There is no minimum financial threshold. To comply with accreditation guidelines, individuals who refuse to provide this information are disqualified from involvement in the planning and implementation of accredited continuing education.

Ineligible company(ies) are those whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, re-selling, or distributing healthcare products used by or on patients. For specific examples of ineligible companies visit http://cce.upmc.com/COI_FAQ.

Examples of financial relationships include employee, researcher, consultant, advisor, speaker, independent contractor (including contracted research), royalties or patent beneficiary, executive role, and ownership interest. Stock and stock options should be disclosed; diversified mutual funds do not need to be disclosed. Owners or employees of an ineligible company must be excluded from planning or implementation of the education
