2024 TiPS Behavioral Health and Pediatric Primary Care Conference – Autism and Developmental Disorders in Focus

Introduction

TiPS is a Pennsylvania HealthChoices program designed to increase the availability to child psychiatry consultation teams regionally and telephonically to primary care providers, for children insured by either Pennsylvania's Medical Assistance (Medicaid) Program or Children's Health Insurance Program (CHIP). In addition to real time peer to peer consultation, TiPS provides free training and education to pediatric practitioners on a variety of behavioral health topics that are relevant to primary care.

The UPMC Children's TiPS teams serves providers who see children and adolescents in the northwestern and southwestern Health Choices Zones and secured additional funding to expand service to include children insured by UPMC Advantage. Based on feedback from providers calling the UPMC Children's TiPS line, as well as feedback from our recent trainings & conferences, there was a strong interest in focusing our training efforts in 2024 to address the needs of children & adolescents with Autism and Intellectual/Developmental Disabilities (IDD). We developed a steering committee which consists of pediatric primary care, behavioral health, intellectual disability, autism spectrum professionals and families. This committee helped create a day-long experience whereby experts in the field of Autism and IDD, including families, work together to help guide us on how we can better meet the needs of patients/families with ASD and/or IDD in medical settings, specifically the primary medical home.

This conference is being sponsored by the UPMC Children's Community Pediatrics Children's TIPS Team and co-funded by Pennsylvania HealthChoices and UPMC Health Plan. Additional philanthropic support was made possible by UPMC Children's Hospital Foundation

Who Should Attend

- Pediatric Primary Care Physicians, Family Practice Physicians, and Advanced Practice Providers (PA, DNP, CRNP), and Behavioral Health Providers working in a primary care office who practice in the northwestern, and southwestern PA counties.

If you have any questions, please contact Colleen Gianneski at 724.933.3912, ext. 272.

There is no charge to attend this conference, however registration is required, and space is limited. There will be no virtual option for this conference, but TIPS will be offering additional virtual training for primary care providers later this year.

 3. Explore the impact of delayed diagnosis on children and families.
