TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR USING TRAIN-THE-TRAINER PROGRAM FOR “AGELESS WISDOM”

Education and Consultative Services of UPMC Senior Services (“UPMC”) is a non-profit program focused on improving the health and well-being of older adults by integrating the research and educational capabilities at UPMC and affiliated partners, and implementing them into programs and services to enhance clinical practice. UPMC offers information and referral services on age-related topics and develops and offers a wide range of training and educational programs for students, professionals and caregivers and facilitates cutting edge multi-disciplinary research in aging across UPMC and other affiliated partners.

The Ageless Wisdom Train-The-Trainer Program (“Program”), a geriatric sensitivity training program, was developed by UPMC to train and sensitize caregivers (formal and informal) to normal changes and those associated with a disease or disability as one ages, so that they have a positive experience while providing care to older adults. It is our hope that an organization interested in the Ageless Wisdom Program would use the Program to train and prepare its caregivers to become “informed” in the aging process, so that it can make a difference in the life of the older persons that it serves.

The following terms and conditions must be agreed upon by the Organization, in its entirety, to become a “Trainer” for the “Ageless Wisdom Train-The-Trainer” Program, having its principal place of business at Suite 7080 Forbes Tower, 3600 Forbes Avenue at Meyran, Pittsburgh, PA 15213.
