2025 PAGS-WD FALL PROGRAM

Wednesday, October 29th

From Impact to Action: Understanding Shifts in Medicare and Medicaid for Pennsylvanians

Overview

On July 4, 2025, after months of debate, a budget reconciliation bill, purported to reduce the federal budget deficit, was signed into law. According to some, this law makes changes in Medicare and Medicaid funding that could portend dramatic changes to the healthcare that older people receive, particularly in rural areas, how healthcare providers are paid, and long-term care services that allow older Americans to age in place rather than go to a nursing home. For the 2025 PGS-WD fall program, a panel of experts will help interpret the trends and discuss the impact of these changes on the cost of healthcare for older adults, how CMS and insurance companies cover healthcare, and how and where older adults receive long-term care services. Will these changes also impact medical training and the compensation of healthcare providers?
